DECEMBER 2005

WHAT IS IT?

Practical Spiritual Astrology is grounded in the understanding that our aim as consciously evolving humans is not only to remember and reclaim our essential divine nature, but also to manifest that spiritual essence more dynamically and more abundantly in the material world. The sacred knowledge of the heavenly intelligences and their cosmic cycles can guide us infallibly into spontaneous right action and joyful, fulfilled expression of our true selves.

Practical Spiritual Astrology thus brings us daily opportunities for being completely spiritually centered in a manner that is consistently resourceful in bringing out the best qualities in our circumstances, completely congruent with our true creative nature, and genuinely helpful to others in a multitude of pragmatic, life-affirming ways.

THE FOCUS FOR THE MONTH

December offers us a rare chance to claim a fresh start for our lives, our relationships, and our future. We can perceive new goals and new directions, as long as we are willing to open our eyes to the abundant possibilities around us and open our hearts to the divine spirit in everyone we meet.

As the month begins, we may be passionately overflowing with inspiration, but if we try to express it to others, who knows if we will be able to get our message across? If we are bold enough to take action in spite of our uncertainty, and if we are willing to risk expressing true gratitude to others, we may find ourselves welcomed into the fellowship of a convivial group, even if we still feel that we have somehow been misunderstood.

As we move further into the month and begin to approach the Full Moon, the impulse to move ahead, to accomplish more and to expand our horizons, may be so compelling that we start to feel overwhelmed. If we take a moment to step back, to catch our breath, and to view things from a more detached perspective, we can gain valuable insights into what our priorities really need to be. At this point we can only get a glimpse of what we are to become, but even that small flicker of vision can be enough to inspire us to greater confidence and bolder action.

By the third week in December the need for creative inspiration and the day-to-day demand for positive innovation are likely to be keeping us on our toes, but they can also create a lot of stress. The simple key is to move out of our heads and into our hearts. If we can claim that heart-centeredness, and then let go of feeling out of control and focus instead on adhering to enlightened disciplines in our work and in our relationships, we can discover delightful new levels of satisfaction.

With the month and the year both coming to an end, we are likely to experience a few surprises. For example, we may have come to rely upon our intuitive capacities and our ability to bring grace and refinement to all of our experiences, but right now those natural talents are going out-of-sync with the opportunities and commitments that confront us. In reality, this is a sacred time for personal rededication to the highest spiritual ideals, but we may find that reaching that goal requires a little bit of strain and effort on our part. Rather than feeling that external demands are a distraction from our spiritual path, however, we have much more to gain if we see our daily challenges as stepping stones toward full enlightenment.

PLAN YOUR YEAR AHEAD

Astrologer Georgia Stathis and the Professional's House have gotten together to produce The Professional's 2006 Astrological Appointment Book and 2006 Astrological Wall Calendar -- they're both excellent planning tools! With these calendars you can easily integrate your daily appointments and obligations with the cosmic factors in play, including planetary ingresses, stations, and major aspects.

The calendars are available in a variety of formats, including coil bound, 7-ring black binder, 7-hole refill to fit the "classic" size Franklin Planner, and a wall calendar.

SPIRITUAL LIVING IN THE MATERIAL WORLD

We face many challenges when we try to bring our spiritual awareness into the realm of mundane reality, but there are few challenges greater than the ones that revolve around money.

Financial concerns have enormous power, and that power can be used wisely to transform our lives and to open up new avenues of loving and creative service. Money questions automatically create emotional stress, and automatically move us into bigger opportunities for personal growth and spiritual evolution.
